

MT. AIRY GARDEN CLUB--June 11, 1987

The June meeting of the Mt. Airy Garden Club was held in the beautiful backyard garden of Joyce Meyers. There were 10 members present. We were also joined by three guests, Nancy Torsani, Ellen Murray and Dottie Garrison.

Our special guest for the evening, Charmane Truesdell, the District I Director, officiated at the installation service for the officers for next year. Then, Peggy Martin began the meeting. The minutes were approved as read. In the absence of Julie Harrison there was not a treasurer's report. Phyllis Tucker read several thank you notes.

Civic Development--Peggy said that the geraniums have been planted at the park entrance.

Horticulture--Jimmi Nell remarked that her topic for this month was "Plants for Giving," and our plant exchange tonight had shown it more clearly than words.

Ann Williams asked for suggestions for programs for next year and if there were any buyers for the Vision of Beauty calendar.

We need volunteers for Arbor House for the summer months. Jimmi Nell went in May. Also, people are needed to help with the Capitol Gardener. Esther Neckere perhaps would be interested in writing an article or two or doing some editing.

Ann Williams made a motion that we make a contribution of $25.00 to Save the Bay. It was seconded by Marie White and carried.

Marie talked about the decorating of the Surratt House for the mock wedding and about their adventures during their trip to collect materials the day before.

Peggy noted that Lynn Miller was taken to lunch at Rip's by several members.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.
